What are funeral plans?

A funeral plan is a way to organise and pay for your funeral in advance, ensuring your wishes are respected while easing the burden on your loved ones.

Funeral plans fix today's prices, protecting against rising costs. When you take out a plan, the price you pay is fixed for all guaranteed services, no matter how much prices rise in future. By paying now, you protect your family from future increases, which can save them significant expense. You also lessen the worry of arranging and paying for a funeral at a difficult time.

By choosing a funeral plan, you're making a thoughtful decision that allows your family to focus on the memories instead of the logistics and costs of a funeral.

Working with your local funeral director, we offer a range of funeral plans designed to suit you and your family, to say goodbye in a way that really matters.

What's included in our funeral plans

Whether you'd like a full service with a procession and hearse, a simpler attended service or a direct cremation, we have a funeral plan to suit you. All of our plans offer the highest quality of care from our experienced team and your funeral director.

Why choose Westerleigh Funeral Plans

1. Local funeral director partnership

We work closely with your local funeral director to ensure you get the funeral you want, delivered with exceptional care and close to home. When you choose one of our prepaid plans you can be sure all the services are covered when the time comes, along with any additional services offered by your chosen funeral director, if added to your plan.

2. Reduce stress for loved ones

With a Westerleigh Funeral Plan everything is already arranged according to your agreed wishes. Working together, your funeral director and Westerleigh will be there to support your loved ones when the time comes. This helps to reduce the worry about any financial and emotional decisions involved with organising a funeral.

3. Make it personal to you

Funeral planning also allows you to outline personal touches, ensuring your wishes are honoured. From the music played to the personal return or scattering of ashes, you have complete control.

4. Highest levels of quality and care

During life's most difficult moments, families need more than a service - they need support, empathy, and a peaceful place to say goodbye. With our range of flexible funeral plans, we help families create meaningful farewells that honour each life with the respect and love it deserves.

5. Plans for you or a loved one

You can take out a plan for a spouse, parent or another loved one whose funeral arrangements you'll be responsible for. One plan can also provide joint cover for a couple to deliver a funeral for whoever requires it first.
